Instructions and Next Steps

- * You will receive a "Claim Confirmation and Instructions" letter in the mail in a few days.
- * Various informational documents will be sent to you as your claim continues.
- * Wisconsin has a waiting week for Unemployment Insurance benefits. This means that for every new benefit year, no benefits are payable for the first week you would otherwise be eligible for benefits.

Register and complete a résumé with Job Center of Wisconsin

- * You will not be paid any benefits until you register and complete a résumé.
- * If you have previously registered, you must log into your account and verify that your registration and résumé have not expired.
- * Job Center of Wisconsin provides services that will help you return to full-time work including job postings, résumé resources, and trainings.
- * You must register and complete a résumé within 14 days.

Perform at least 4 work search actions each week

- * Record your work search actions during the week using the online work search entry form. If you prefer paper, use the work search action log.
- * Keep acceptable proof of your work search actions for one year. Maintain enough detail to verify your work searches at any time.
- * More information about valid work search requirements is available on the DWD website.
- * Examples of valid work search actions include:
 - * Submitting a résumé or application in person to an employer that has openings or is taking applications.
 - * Registering with placement facility, temporary help agency, or recruiter.
 - * Participating in a job interview.

File a weekly claim certification each week

- * You will not be paid any benefits for a week until you file a weekly claim certification for that week.
- * You must wait until Sunday or later to file a weekly claim certification for the previous week. UI weeks run from Sunday through Saturday.
- * Once the week has ended, you have a 14-day window to file the weekly claim certification.
- * Read the Maintaining Your UI Eligibility section of the Claimant Handbook for more information about filing your weekly claim certification.
- * You need to file your weekly claim certification for the week: 3/16/2025 through 3/22/2025.
- * File your first weekly claim during the week of Sunday 3/23/2025. At that time you will complete your claim for the previous week; 3/16/2025 through 3/22/2025.

Read the claimant handbook

- * The Claimant Handbook has important information about Unemployment Insurance and your legal rights, including how to apply for benefits, how your eligibility for benefits is determined and what you must do each week to receive a benefit payment.
- * You are held responsible for knowing the information in the handbook.

New Claims

- * A separate computation form will list the employers and wages on which your new claim is based.

Separation Issue

- * One or more reasons you are no longer working raise an eligibility question.
- * If we need more information, we will notify you.

You must agree to this statement and check the box before you can continue to the next page.

What about your performance did the employer tell you was unsatisfactory?

Casey has not been verifying if the changes he made have been fixed before rolling out to other areas of the business
Casey has not been utilizing unit testing to the standards established within the team
Casey has not been able to effectively identify root cause and solution with issues
Casey has been working on more junior level coding projects
Due to Casey Bement's performance issues, management has been redoing/making changes to Casey's work over the last 6 months.

Provide your detailed explanation of what occurred. Include the date(s) of the incident(s) of unsatisfactory performance:

I worked an entire day of work, 7:35 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. when the CEO Chuck Gregorich came into the Tech Department with a sheet of paper. Chuck handed the paper to Nick Weber who then informed me that my performance issues are causing me to be terminated effective immediately.
Nick and I have had a very transparent and good work environment since he came aboard NHS. I have no history of performance issues listed on the piece of paper handed to me. It was a shocking and unforeseen experience.

Provide any additional information you would like to be considered as part of this investigation:

I believe that Chuck Gregorich forced Nick Weber to hand me a termination paper with made up reasons of unsatisfactory performance. I believe that I have made great strides and improvements to the Net Health Shops tech department.

I had recently inquired to the HR department, one person, Addie Etcheson about getting a copy of my Non-Compete agreement. I think this inquiry has spurred Chuck into terminating me.

When I inquired about the reasons and proof of my unsatisfactory performance. Nick had stated "It's best if I do not say anything." and "Addie will have the documentation of the occurrences.". Chuck remained quiet until saying "Thanks Casey.".

I was then asked to pack my things and leave, and return the next day with some work from home equipment. At 11 a.m. I was told I would be meeting with Addie. I returned to Net Health Shops with all of their equipment. HR did not answer the phone call I placed to get into the door and my keyfob no longer worked. Nick Weber came to the front door and stated "Addie couldn't answer the phone because she was on a phone call.". This is directly at 11 a.m. the time I was provided to meet with the HR department. I asked about having an exit interview. Nick stated "Oh, Addie is not actually here right now.". Nick and Chuck directly lied to me about talking with HR.

I cannot believe the treatment I have experienced during this. It is truly incomprehensible to me.

I have had a successful career working with Net Health Shops and I believe upon asking any of my peers, they would also be shocked about the treatment of my termination and reasons for it.
